Student Expectations

Attendance

Because active participation is necessary for both student learning and accurate instructor assessment, “attendance” is required this course. Students must log in and complete work on a weekly basis.

Failure to log into the course during any given week will not only result in forfeiting credit on that week's assignments.

Courtesy and Student Conduct Code

When sending me (or any instructor) an email, please include your course and section numbers. This information helps me identify you and your section more quickly (e.g., POS1041 0I1). If you aren't sure which section you are in, you can see it on the course homepage. Adding this information is particularly important for online classes, as it is difficult to remember which students are in which sections.

Also, you should use professional, formal language when communicating with people in educational and occupational contexts. Although the occasional emoticon can help establish a friendly mood, you should avoid slang, abbreviations, and informal language or punctuation. Remember, good impressions mean a lot, so make the extra effort to be professional when communicating with people in academic or occupational settings.

Late Work

You must submit your work on time. Work deadlines are typically not flexible, and many workers lose their jobs for not meeting deadlines. It is important to practice good professional habits in an academic setting, so treat your class responsibilities like you would a job's responsibilities. Often, you will be able to submit work early. Such diligence is always welcomed and appreciated – in school or at work.

You should always confirm that your submission has been accepted; if you later discover that it was not uploaded completely or properly, you may receive a late penalty or a zero on the assignment. Minor, weekly assignments should be submitted into the text box provided by Canvas.

Gordon Rule Requirement

This course is a Gordon Rule course. In accordance with the State of Florida's Rule 6A-10.030, all courses designated as Gordon Rule ("GR") in the college catalog will include the requirement that students demonstrate the ability to produce college-level, discipline-based writings. Such courses include, but are not limited to, those in the Communications, Humanities, and Social Sciences categories. This requirement will be met in each class through the student's successful completion of multiple and substantive college-level writing assignments as designed and assessed by the instructor in such a way as to measure both course-specific learning and development of writing skills over the progress of a given semester. In addition to demonstrating a satisfactory understanding of the written English language, all such assignments submitted by a student should exhibit critical thinking skills and be directly related to the discipline's specific General Learning Outcome(s). In this course, students will write at least 3500 words, with these writing assignments making up 45% of the graded activities for this course.

Grading Policies (Student Performance Measures)

Learning Activities

- FCLE Study Guide (7.5%) – Each module, you'll be asked to add to the FCLE study guide, designed to help you learn key terms and Supreme Court cases.
- FCLE Chapter Study Quizzes (7.5%) – There is a 10-question, multiple-choice and true-false quiz you'll take as well. These questions are focused on concepts that might appear on the FCLE.
- Writing Assignments (25%) – You'll have to complete five, 500-word writing assignments during the course. These are dispersed throughout the course. Failure to meet the word count on any written assignment will result in an immediate 25% grade deduction.
- Creative Assignments (25%) – In addition to the writing assignments, you'll also complete video reflections and slideshow projects.
- GLO Essay (20%) – In Module 12, you will need to submit your 1,000-word GLO essay, which focuses on the Separation of Powers between the three branches of the Federal Government. Failure to meet the word count on any written assignment will result in an immediate 25% grade deduction.
- Final (15%) – You will have two choices for the final exam. You can either complete the FCLE and reflect on the experience, or respond to 15 short-answer questions for a cumulative exam.

Grading Scale

- A – 90% - 100%
- B – 80% - 89.9%
- C – 70% - 79.9%
- D – 60% - 69.9%
- F – 59.9% or below

Returning Grades

I will grade most assignments within one week of the due date. For more expansive assignments, I will return them within two weeks. This gives me ample time to provide constructive, useful feedback to help you progress and grow as a student in this course.

Student Support and Tech Needs

This course requires students to have access to a computer and the internet. For those students who do not own a computer, computer labs are available on the FGC campus and in public libraries. Students without internet can come to the FGC campus, go to local public libraries, coffee shops, etc.

Minimal technical skills require for this course include the ability to use Microsoft Office products and navigate the Internet.

Class Recording

A student shall not make a recording in class unless the recording is limited to the class lecture, and

1. the recording is made for the student's personal educational use,

3. as evidence in or in preparation for a criminal or civil proceeding.

Students are not permitted to record in class, through any means over any medium, any academic or other activity that is not a class lecture. 2. First, click the Student tab; next click Registration; and then click Course Withdrawal Form.
3. The student will enter the course information, the instructor's email address, and the advisor's name and email address. Once all information is entered, submit the form.
4. The form then routes directly to the instructor for approval and the last date of attendance. Once the instructor has completed their portion, the form will route to the advisor.
5. The advisor will complete their portion of the form and submit.
6. The form then routes to Registration & Records for processing. The student will receive an email notification to their FGC Wolves email account once this step is completed.
